CLASS IX and X
ENGLISH COMPOSITION
LESSON 3 – PARAGRAPH WRITING

SOLUTION

EXERCISE

Write a Paragraph on each of the following:

1) An Accident

Ans: Last week I saw an accident. It is still fresh in my mind. A child was trying to cross the road. A car came from the opposite direction. The driver tried to save the child. But a bus, coming from the opposite direction ran into the car. The driver of the bus had only minor injuries. The car driver was seriously injured. Some passengers of the bus also got light injuries. Some went to inform the police and the seriously injured persons were sent to hospital. It was a very shocking incident.

2) The Republic Day

Ans: Republic Day is the day when Constitution of India came into force in 1950 on 26th of January. It is one of the most important national events for India and its citizens. It is celebrated every year since 1950 and will be continued in the future forever to remember the occurrence of Indian Constitution.

3) A School Function

Ans: The annual function of our school was held on 6th December. Preparations for the function were made of few days in advance. The school building and the main hall was decorated. The Director of Education was the Chief Guest. He presided over the function and gave away the prizes. He congratulated the Principal and staff on the progress made by the school. The Principal thanked the Chief Guest and the function came to a close with the singing of the National Anthem.

4) Need for Education for all

Ans: Education means to understand and learn by exploring new adventures. The basic education is necessary for everyone to know the difference between good and bad for them. These days, education has reached every place, but still there are children who do not get education. This is due to poverty. But this problem is no more with the society because the Government has set up several Government Schools free of cost, where the school provides children with midday meal. Education is for all and everyone has got the right to achieve it.

5) My favorite T.V. Serial

Ans: Television provides information and entertainment. It is also possible to see great events happening anywhere in the world on the small T.V. screen. One of my favourite T.V. Serial is a serial which is broadcasted on Star World. It revolves around the fight of good and bad. In this serial, a twelve years old boy Finn, with his friend Tom, fights against the evil. He tries to keep evil away from harming people.

6) A visit to the zoo

Ans: My friends and I visited the zoo. As we approached the main gate, we saw a huge crowd. We entered the zoological garden and came across a beautiful lake in which some aquatic birds like ducks and swans were swimming. It was a charming sight. In the next enclosure, there were leopards, bears, eagles and tigers. After that, we came across a garden in which stags and deer were frisking about. There were monkeys and baboons too. Their tricks and pranks were very pleasing. As the sun was setting, we came out of the zoo. I shall always remember my thrilling experience in the zoo.

7) A visit to a Book Fair

Ans: A book fair provided an excellent opportunity to one and all to buy the books of their choice at one go. I have also visited a book fair organized in the Imphal Academy Campus. Different publishers had put up their stalls and displayed their books in their stalls. A large number of publishers including some international publishers like Macmillan, Orient, Longman etc. was participating. Thousands of book – lovers all over the state visited the book fair. Such book fairs should be organized every year in all major cities of the country.

8) An ideal student

Ans: An ideal student is one who is fully conscious of his responsibilities. A student may be very good in his studies but he need not necessarily be an ideal student. An ideal student should believe in simple living and high thinking. He student should believe in simple living and high thinking. He is a model for others. He is fully aware of his duties and has some good qualities. They are noble, studious and high-minded in their duties and brilliant in studies. An ideal student is an asset to a school, society and to the nation as a whole.

9) A Scene in the Examination hall

Ans: The scene in the examination hall can be described best either by the invigilators or by the examinees. An examination is commonly a silent place. Students remain busy writing the answer to different questions. But nowadays the scene in an examination hall is not up to satisfactory. The mentality of the students and their guardians has become corrupted. They adopt unfair means to pass in the examination even though time is precious for one to look right and left. The intelligent students become happy and time seems to pass within minutes. The dull students feel bad, tense and worried.

10. School Morning Assembly

Ans: A School Morning Assembly is a gathering of all or part of a school for any variety of purposes, such as special programs or communicating information on a daily or weekly basis. In some schools, students gather to perform a common song or prayer and to receive common announcements. It serves as powerful motivators for the entire school. Morning assembly is a powerful way to instill discipline and also to set a joyful and focused tone for the day.

11. Why I love my school

Ans: There are many reasons to love my school. It is our second home. My school is incredibly unique as it gives us a sense of contributing something to the community and can make a difference. I feel so comfortable there. Our teachers do anything to help students succeed. I always have someone looking out for me at school. I have got many friends at school and the people I have met at my school, have made such a huge impact on me. My school offers so many different opportunities to get involved in things around the campus. My school taught me moral values, and helps me become a better human being.

12. Why I love my Country

Ans: I love my country India, which is known for its rich cultural heritage and natural resources. The natural beauty of India is enchanting. I especially love our best national values; freedom, opportunity, community, justice, human rights, and equality under the law for all of our citizens of every race, creed, culture and gender, not just for the rich and powerful, in particular, I love our tradition and history. I am proud of my nation. Above all, India is my motherland.

13. When there is no Electricity

Ans: To think of life without electricity is almost impossible today. Electricity provides all the comforts of life. We find ourselves completely helpless and feel its importance whenever power fails or when the supply is irregular. Life would be totally different without electricity. No electric appliances would have not been there. There would have not been so many inventions in the field of health and treatment of diseases. Science and technology would have not developed so much. Electricity has become an integral part of our life stream.

14. Meeting an old friend

Ans: A true friend is a great gift of God. When we meet our old friend after a long time, our joy knows no boundary. It is as if we have come upon a lost treasure. We start our endless talks and asked one another about the welfare of our families. Both of us are overjoyed and excited. It looks that our friendship has been cemented once more and forever. We are both emotional and happy.

15. People who serve us.

Ans: There are many people around us who serve us daily and makes our life easy and comfortable. Without them, life would not be very easy. Milkman, Newspaperman, Sweeper, Postman, Bus conductor, driver, policeman, peons, washer man etc are some persons who serve us daily. All these persons are low paid. They deserve our love, care and attention. We should try to help them in whatever way it is possible.

16. Being a Teenager

Ans: In today's world, being a teenager is not easy. There are many changes and challenges to face, decisions to make and choose the roads to take. But at the same time, it is fun. A teenager faces new experiences daily. This is one of most important stages of life. During this stage of life, a person is most insecure of their physical appearance. Teenagers make a big deal out of how they dress up. The company of friends sometimes become more valuable than family. Peer pressure is at its peak. So, teenagers just need acceptance, love and support from the people around them in order to get through.

17. How to study for Examination

Ans: Exam preparation really begins the day when your course begins, because our success depends on our day-to-day study habits. We must have well-organised and complete notes and have regular revision of our work at the end of each topic or section. Above all, we must organize our time, make a study plan, organize our space (physical and mental), organize our material, do some research, revise and test ourselves and make our final preparations.

18. Social service

Ans: The service rendered by an individual or an institution to improve the social conditions of society is called 'social service.' This service is rendered on humanitarian considerations and without any motive of profit. Social service is based on the ideal of brotherhood of man. It is a natural impulse to help man in distress. It cannot be rendered without an element of self-service, to remove poverty and illiteracy, to help people in the matters of sanitation, to reconstruct village roads, to clear slums, to plant trees, to give relief to flood-stricken people are some of the social services.

19. My Neighbour

Ans: Neighbours play an important role in our social life. A good neighbour makes our life sweet whereas bad neighbour makes a hell of it. One cannot have neighbours of one's choice. My neighbour lives just next to our house. They are really a nice family. Their daughter Pinky is my friend. We have got good relation with our neighbour. Both the families stand together in joy and sorrow. Neighbours play an important role in our social life. We are fortunate to have a good neighbour.

20. The importance of Trees

Ans: We often get to hear 'plant trees and save the Earth.' This clearly indicates the importance of trees to the well-being of our planet and is directly linked to our survival. Trees are the best gift given by God. Tree provides oxygen to Billions of living being. Tree provides us oxygen, beautiful flowers, fruits helpful leaves, woods, rubber, oils etc for living beings. Trees are our life. We should protect and conserve them. We should not cut trees in order to maintain the balance of environment.
